

NEW ROCHELLE OPENS ITS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Formal Festivities Confined on First Day to Services in Churches.

BIG RECEPTION TO-NIGHT

Parade Is To-morrow and Guests From La Rochelle Will Plant Tree Wednesday.

New Rochelle, June 22.—The town of New Rochelle started in early to-day to celebrate its 25th birthday. The formal festivities were confined to services in the churches, but there were informal parties on almost every street corner all day long. So many "old timers" have come back to take part in the celebration that it looked as though the town were having one gigantic old home week.

If the young man who wrote the popular song a few years ago in which he said that all the male inhabitants of New Rochelle "have whiskers like hay and imagine Broadway only forty-five minutes from here," stood on the corner of Main and Huguenot streets in the afternoon he would have to admit that Broadway, New York, hasn't very much on Main street, New Rochelle, when it comes to celebrating anniversaries. Nearly every store in town from the Central Hotel and the Standard Dancing Academy on Huguenot street all the way up Huguenot to Main, is decorated with the Red, White and Blue of the United States and the Blue, White and Red of France.

France will take a big part in the week's celebration, for New Rochelle according to history, was the very place the French Huguenots landed after their ship had rounded Manhattan and poked its nose up the Sound.

Noted Frenchmen Guests.

Two noted Frenchmen, Charles Gardegnon, mayor at the Sorbonne, lawyer, author and municipal councillor of the city of La Rochelle, and Harry Chatonnet, have come from France to take part in the festivities. They arrived in New York on Saturday, took a hurried trip yesterday to New Rochelle to-morrow, they will be the guests of Henry M. Lester, president of the Huguenot Society. To-morrow night there will be a reception in the high school, at which Mayor Frederick S. Waldorf will preside. George C. Raymond, Michael J. Dillon, Henry C. Clark and Harry E. Colwell, all former Mayors of New Rochelle, will speak. On Tuesday there will be a big parade, with many brass bands and musical floats. On Wednesday the delegates from La Rochelle will plant a tree in the park near the Huguenot House, after which a statue of Gov. Jacob Lesieur will be unveiled by the Huguenot Daughters of the Revolution.

In addition to the two French delegates many guests are expected. Invitations have been sent to President Wilson, Vice-President Marshall, Secretary of War Wood, Daniel C. Ruggles, Lieut. Gov. Glynn, Gov. Baldwin of Connecticut, Senator O'Grady, Senator Root, Ambassador Jusserand, Consul General Etienne Lanel, Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft, Mayor Gaynor, Mayor Gen. Barry, Bishop David H. Green, Cardinal Farley, Andrew Carnegie and many others.

DR. J. A. JACKSON IS MARRIED.

Philadelphia Alumnus Takes Miss Hazel Craig as Bride.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Dr. James Allen Jackson, the chief resident physician of the Philadelphia Hospital for the Insane, was married to-day to Miss Hazel M. Craig by the Rev. Dr. Frank Lynch, the pastor of the Ebenezer Methodist Church. The couple left for New York to take a steamer for Naples to-morrow.

Mrs. Jackson is a graduate of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., a native of Georgia. He was graduated from the Jefferson Medical College in 1908.

Graves—Landon.

PATERSON, N. J., June 22.—Miss Wilhelmia A. Landon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Landon of this city, and Dr. Samuel Monroe Graves, a graduate of Harvard and recently appointed superintendent of public schools of Cambridge, Mass., were married at noon to-day in the home of the bride's parents, 574 East Twenty-sixth street, by the Rev. Herbert Barber Howe.

Following a wedding breakfast Dr. and Mrs. Graves left to spend the summer in Maine. They will live in Cambridge.

CATER-BOOTH WEDDING TO-DAY. HACKENSACK, N. J., June 22.—The wedding of Mrs. Mary E. Coppel Booth of New York and Tenafly to O. De Laney Cooter of New York will be celebrated in the Church of the Atonement at Tenafly to-morrow. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Archibald E. Montgomery, rector of the church, and there will be a full choral service.

Mrs. Booth will be attended by her sister, Mrs. Lawrence Elliman, and by her little niece, Helen Haight. Mr. Cooter has chosen for his best man W. Albert Pease, Jr., and his ushers will be Stephen H. P. Bell, Franklin P. Hoyt, Charles A. Van Rensselaer, G. Townsend Adee, Ernest Lorillard and Lawrence Elliman.

A wedding reception will follow at the Towers, the country home of the bride's sisters, the Misses Coppel.

Mrs. Booth is the widow of Edgar H. Booth of New York. She is a daughter of the late George Coppel, who was British Consul in New Orleans during the civil war.

ILLINOIS WOMEN TO GET VOTE.

Governor Expected to Sign Suffrage Bill To-day.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 22.—Gov. Dunne in all probability will sign the woman suffrage bill which Attorney-General Lucey will return to him to-morrow.

Despite rumors that the Attorney-General would return an adverse opinion it is said to-night that he will return the bill without recommendation and the Governor will promptly sign it.

The story of the efforts to get him to veto it is an interesting one. He was promised passage of his pet initiative and referendum resolution on the final day of the session and votes on the so-called "perpetual license bill" are said to have also figured in the proposed exchange, but Gov. Dunne is reported to have replied: "I will sign the suffrage bill."

Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Trout, Mrs. Antoinette Funk and Mrs. Medill McCormick are here awaiting the signing of the bill. They are armed with opinions defending the constitutionality of the bill and with gold pens which are to figure in the signing.

"It has all been such a victory," said Mrs. Trout, "since the bill passed. Ten members who voted against us have come and said they wished it was not too late to change their votes."

TARIFF BRINGS CANNY SCOT.

Carnegie's Friend Expects to Sell Lines at English Prices.

Sir William Robertson of Dunfermline, member of a line manufacturing establishment and also vice-chairman of the Carnegie Trust for Great Britain and Ireland, arrived yesterday by the Anchor Line Cameronia to promote the selling of Scotch made linen in the United States. He said he intended to establish centres of distribution here on a large scale, eliminating the middleman or linen commission merchant.

In view of the reduction of duty on linen by the Democratic Administration, Sir Robert said he believed he could sell a good quality of linen here at practically the same price charged for it in England. He remarked that the Scotch were catching up to the Irish in the manufacture of linen.

THE SEAGOERS.

Some of Those Who Will Sail To-day for European Ports.

Banker and Politician.

JAPAN'S ARCH BALL FAN HERE ON MISSION

Kiujiro Okazaki, M. P., to Study American Feeling Toward His Countrymen.

ON TRIP AROUND WORLD

Yellow Journals' Talk of War Between U. S. and Nippon Is "Funny," He Says.

Kiujiro Okazaki, member of Parliament for Gifu, near Tokio, who is as proud of his job as "president of baseball" in Japan as he is of his political distinction, arrived yesterday on the Cunarder Carmania.

This trip was in the interest of the Doshka party, which might be translated as the Ideal party or the Progressive party, of which the Marquis Taro Katsura is the head. While I was in London I received a cable from the Marquis to go to the United States and learn the opinion of the people of the East in regard to the Japanese question. We know already the attitude of the people of the far West.

Admiration for America. The feeling for America of the distinguished head of his party, the Marquis Katsura, who has been three times Premier of Japan, he said, was one of admiration and affection. The Marquis regarded war between the United States and Japan as next to impossible. Mr. Okazaki said he shared the sentiment of the Marquis on this subject, as did all the members of his party.

"The war party in Japan," he said, "is insignificant. It is fostered by a few cheap newspapers that are not widely read. There are papers somewhat like them in the United States and serious people pay no attention to them. This talk about Japan waging war on the United States is absurd. It is funny. It is a fit theme for a yellow journal in Japan and here. Where would Japan get the money to carry on a war with the United States? The last war is still being paid for by the people."

Mr. Okazaki said the Japanese did not ask the United States for citizenship; they knew that the Supreme Court had decided that only people of the Caucasian and the black race might become citizens. Japan did not encourage emigration. It was difficult for a Japanese to get out of his country, as it took the ordinary man two months to get his passport, and even he, Mr. Okazaki, could not obtain his papers inside of two weeks.

Says Japanese Want Fair Play. All the Japanese want was fair treatment, he said, the same accorded to other civilized nations. Mr. Okazaki will spend three days in this city, three days in Chicago and one week in Washington. He will talk to Col. Bryan, whom he welcomed in Tokio as a member of the committee from the Chamber of Commerce and will also confer with members of the Japanese Embassy. Talking and understanding English well, Mr. Okazaki will make some personal investigation of the sentiment toward his country in cities in the East and middle West, which he characterizes as the East in contradistinction to the Pacific coast. He hopes to get much help from the consulates in the various cities and from the intellectual and observant Japanese in business here.

BORGLUM TO JUDGE GARDENS. Will Act With H. A. Caparn in Montclair Contest.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., June 22.—Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, and H. A. Caparn, Architects of New York, have been chosen as the judges for the Jarvie garden contest in this town. Besides being a sculptor, Mr. Borglum is an enthusiastic landscapist.

WHITMAN DODGES HECKLING BY FORUM

Makes Address but Asks to Be Excused From the Usual Questioning.

LACK OF LOCAL PATRIOTISM

We Enact Laws and Straightway Forget Them, Says the District Attorney.

Although it was advertised Saturday that District Attorney Whitman would appear at the Church of the Ascension's Sunday night Forum to answer questions, he did not answer any.

He did appear, as did enough people to fill all the pews, and he made an address which took up the best part of an hour. The Rev. Percy Stickney Grant told the audience that Mr. Whitman had asked to be excused from questioning, the usual practice at that church on Sunday nights.

Mr. Whitman talked analytically about criminal law, the lack of patriotism in citizens generally at times of municipal election and the unromanticism of being District Attorney.

He said that the administration of criminal laws in the United States has been pretty severely criticised and in his opinion justly so. The number of unfinished criminals in this country, said he, does not compare favorably with the number in England.

Public Must Approve Laws. "You cannot enforce laws," he said, "behind which there is not popular approval. Neither can you make a State moral by laws—the laws follow morality. Legislation has become a habit with our people and having passed a law they straightway forget it. Many of the conditions against which we have legislated we see continuing around us daily."

To expand his ideas of laws and people's belief in them he said that persons cannot be made to believe it is immoral to sell liquor during a given five hours of the day if it is not immoral to sell it during the other nineteen.

"It is interesting to note," he said, "how patriotism for the national government will dwindle when it comes to the municipal government. A Federal official who errs is liable to much severer criticism than a city official."

This lack of interest in municipal affairs, he said, reveals itself in the election of Aldermen in about every town in the Union.

Aldermen Enact Vital Laws. "They often have to enact the laws that affect us most vitally, and yet there is very little interest taken in their election."

ANTIS HUNTING LIBEL IN SUFFRAGE TRACTS

Their Attorneys Go Over Speeches and Will File Suits if Possible.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—

"With a view to protecting themselves from abusive language officers of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage have employed attorneys to examine all the speeches and literature of the suffragists for the purpose of instituting suits for libel against objectionable parties."

This is the opening sentence in a statement given out here this afternoon by the Washington headquarters of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

"The scrutiny of the material put out by the suffragists," says the statement, "has become more thorough since Miss Inez Milholland in a public meeting in Plainfield, N. J., stated that both on the platform and in the public press charges of an alliance between the anti-suffrage movement and the liquor interests had been made, and the fact that no suits for libel had been instituted was good proof that they were true."

The statement continues: "In answer to this statement Miss Minnie Bronson said: 'Miss Milholland has just received her diploma as a lawyer and she ought to know, and probably does know that no statement has been made either in any public platform or in the press which is in any way libelous. The suffragists have skillfully avoided giving expression in public to a libelous statement though they have approached dangerously near to it. To say that any interests, liquor or other interests, are supporting a cause is not in itself libelous, but if the suffragists in public or in the press ever made a statement that the liquor interests are giving help to the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage or to any representative thereof a suit for libel will be instituted within twenty-four hours.'"

"We are looking for this opportunity and when it comes we will take advantage of it to the uttermost."

"One conviction for criminal libel will do a great deal to check the flood of malicious untruths about the women who are opposed to votes for women which have been circulated by suffragists."

Temperature at Atlantic City. ATLANTIC CITY, June 22.—The temperature was 74 at noon here to-day.

JUDGE HENRY C. JONES DIES.

Last of Those Who Sat in Confederate Congress.

FLORENCE, Ala., June 22.—Judge Henry C. Jones, 94 years old, died at his home here to-day. He was the last surviving member of the Confederate Congress. He was a prominent member of the State Legislature prior to the war and voted against secession, carrying his opposition as an act of courage. He was a conspicuous figure in public life in Alabama.

Although still opposing secession Judge Jones was elected a member of the Confederate Congress when it was a one-chamber body in Montgomery, and was a member of the Congress that provided the form of government for the Confederacy. Judge Jones accompanied him on a number of his political speaking tours. He was always a dominating figure in Democratic conventions. For two-thirds of a century he was a conspicuous figure in public life in Alabama.

MME. LUCIE FELIX FAURE-GOYAU

Daughter of Late President of France Dies in Paris.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.

PARIS, June 22.—Mme. Lucie Goyau, the daughter of the late President Felix Faure, died here to-day of pulmonary congestion after a short illness, at the age of 47. She was a Roman Catholic and wrote a book on the life of Cardinal Newman. She also was the author of several books of poems. She was the first to recognize the genius of Maurice Maeterlinck. Her husband, Georges Goyau, a noted writer, survives her.

Mme. Goyau was a devoted admirer of her father and her life, in 1920, she preferred to be called Lucie Felix Faure-Goyau. She was deeply grieved by the widespread publicity given to the mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of her father, particularly during the trial of Mrs. Steinhilf for the murder of her husband and mother. She made heavy sacrifices later to prevent Mrs. Steinhilf from using the late President's name too freely in writing her memoirs.

Lincoln Wiley MacLeod.

Lincoln Wiley MacLeod, who as a Captain in the Seventy-first Regiment participated in all of the battles of the siege of Santiago in the Spanish-American war, died yesterday at his home, 185 Amity street, Flushing, aged 50 years. He was in the thickest of the battles of San Juan Hill, Bloody Ford and Kettle Hill.

Before the war Mr. MacLeod had been an officer in the Seventh Regiment, but when that organization did not go to the front in a body he was transferred to the Seventy-first Regiment as a Second Lieutenant. He was soon made a First Lieutenant and on the field of battle was promoted to the Captaincy, succeeding Capt. Joyce.

His ancestors, who through several generations have been noted college professors and physicians, settled in America in 1783. His father was Dr. Samuel H. Wiley MacLeod, who died in 1880. His mother and one brother, Dr. Johnston MacLeod of Flushing, survive.

Major Benton McConnell.

RATH, N. Y., June 22.—Major Benton McConnell, died to-day at his home in Hornell. He was president of the McConnell Manufacturing Company of Hornell.

He served in a New York regiment of volunteers during the civil war and held membership in the G. A. R. and Loyal Legion. He was appointed by Gov. Roosevelt a member of the board of trustees of the New York State Soldiers Home, a position he held at death. He was 82 years old and leaves a widow and daughter.

David Seymour Brown.

David Seymour Brown, founder of the David S. Brown Soap Company, died yesterday in his home at 881 West End avenue at the age of 75. He retired some years ago from the business he had founded by his wife and two sons, David S. Brown, Jr., and Arthur C. Brown, and by a daughter, Mrs. John S. Sutphen. Mr. Brown was a Grand Army man and a founder of the Colonial Club.

NEGRO EXPOSITION IN OCTOBER.

Will Illustrate All Phases of Their Progress.

The Emancipation Exposition, for which the State has appropriated $25,000, to be held in a New York armory, the last ten days of October, is to comprise fifteen divisions illustrating all phases of negro progress in America.

Historically the exhibits will begin with African Industries. Among other divisions will be occupations, especially agriculture, inventions, education, the work of women, art, literature, architecture, music, written and performed, negroes and a pageant of episodes in the history of the race. There will be two congresses, one on social uplift, the other on religion.

Gov. Sulzer will attend the exposition on October 24, Governor's day.

ONE KILLED IN 3,428.571 MILES.

Pennsylvania Railroad Shows Record of 21 Dead in 1912.

The Pennsylvania Railroad ran freight and passenger trains more than 72,000,000 miles in 1912 and twenty-one persons were killed. Four were passengers and seventeen were employees, making an average of one person killed to every 3,428,571 miles.

There were seventeen deaths among the 61,443 employees, making an average of one killed to every 4,235,294 miles run.

FIRST TACTICAL UNIT SINCE WAR

Galveston Manoeuvres Commanded by 400 Officers of Army.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—New York army officers pointed out to-night that the recent dinner at Galveston, where ten regiments of infantry are mobilized, was the first occasion since the civil war on which 400 officers of the United States Army had assembled.

The mobilization at Galveston was the first in more than a generation in which a complete tactical unit has been assembled and the higher officers got opportunity to exercise the duties properly belonging to their position.

The Galveston manoeuvres demonstrated, according to War Department officials, that concentration of the army in tactical units is economical as well as tending to efficiency.

Mrs. Munyon Returns to Stage.

Pauline Louise Neff Metzger-Munyon.

Pauline Louise Neff Metzger-Munyon, the famous medicine woman, known on the stage as Pauline Neff, will return to the stage to-morrow night, when she will appear in "The Only Son," at the Harlem Opera House. She was married to Munyon in 1908, when she was 24 years old and her husband about 60. Munyon began an action for divorce in Philadelphia two weeks ago.

DANCER HURRIES TO WED BROKER

Saharet Rose Met at Pier by Von Frantzius, Who Summoned Her.

NOT IN SUCH A RUSH NOW

She Insists on Seven Days to Think It Over—He Wants Speed.

A graceful young woman in black, came down the gangplank of the Cunarder Carmania yesterday a moment after she docked and was rapturously saluted by a man of middle age, whose buoyancy made him appear quite young.

The young woman is Saharet Rose, whose specialty is dancing, chiefly classic and Russian. She is black-eyed and handsome. The man who met her is Friedrich W. von Frantzius, stock broker of Chicago and this city and an art connoisseur. He fell in love with a portrait of her before he saw the original, at least that is what she said and he did not contradict her, although he was standing near and heard her.

The dancer was in London fulfilling an engagement when she got a summons to come to New York and get married. That is why she left her mother, who is in England, and took the first ship available.

The ship news reporters got the impression that Miss Saharet is a bit inclined to be saucy. They asked her, before they learned that her betrothed had sent for her, for whom she was going to dance, and she answered breezily, "Don't know; going to get married, maybe."

Down on the pier Mr. von Frantzius, who speaks and acts with almost the rapidity of Miss Rose, said with emphasis that there was nothing problematical about the marriage. It was going to take place swiftly. Miss Rose appeared to regard the decision of the broker with composure. She said: "No, I am not going to get married right away. I must have seven days to think it over."

"You can't have seven days, not seven hours," he replied.

"But I may like to dance."

"You must give up dancing. You cannot dance."

"I can't," executing a few steps.

"Well, you may dance if you do it for me."

To show how much he thought of the young woman Mr. von Frantzius looked after her baggage, of which there were nineteen pieces, including a tea set and a phonograph. Miss Rose went to the Plaza. She insisted on her seven days. She was born in Australia and danced her way into the hearts of her countrymen there before going on the stage in Europe.

NEW Y. W. C. A. GIRLS' CAMP.

Big Outing Place Will Be Opened at Blauvelt, N. Y., on July 1.

The Young Women's Christian Association has prepared a new camp for girls in Rockland county, twenty-five miles from New York.

Miss Cora L. Tatham, general secretary for metropolitan work, announced yesterday that a big new camp for girls, N. Y., would be opened July 1, with a formal dedication on Independence Day. The camp will be available for all girls, regardless of creed, whether members of the Y. W. C. A. or not. It is thought it will rival the popularity of Algonquin, the Heidelberg Mountain recreation centre of the association for the whole State and for New Jersey.

At present the new camp has no name. Many names have been suggested, but none of them has been approved by Mrs. J. E. L. Davis, chairman of the camp committee. Mrs. William H. Morison or the other well known women at the head of the enterprise. The name, however, is to be supplied on the Fourth of July. On that day an election will be held among the girls at the camp, and they will choose the title.

Camp Blauvelt will have as its leader Miss Marion Hopkins, a graduate of the University of Chicago, who has been a Y. W. C. A. secretary in St. Louis.

SHERIDAN.—With profound sorrow announcement is made by the Alumnae Association of the College of St. Elizabeth, Convent Station, New Jersey, of the death at his late home, Jersey City, on the 20th inst. of their beloved president, Mrs. Theresa A. Shannon-Sheridan, of the class of '78.

In the person of this noble woman the college loses a most loyal and devoted alumna and benefactor and the Alumnae Association a most worthy and faithful president. For eleven years she served as the directing spirit of the association and at its organization in 1896 was one of its most ardent promoters. A high mass of request will be celebrated at the college on Monday, June 24. Members of the Alumnae Association are requested to attend the funeral mass at St. Joseph's Church, Pavonia avenue, Jersey City, at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning, June 24.
